

Immediate Adoption of Beer Legislation Urged By Lehman, Favors State Control Board

Governor Warns Failure To Enact Beer Control Legislation By April 7 Will Mean That The Sale of Beer Will Be Uncontrolled—Recommends Central State Control Board To Regulate Sales.

State Capitol, Albany N. Y., March 29 (AP).—With a warning that its failure to enact beer control legislation by April 7 will mean that the sale of beer will be wholly uncontrolled in New York state after that date, Governor Herbert H. Lehman addressed the state's lawmakers in person today and urged them to approve his "model" beer control plan.

Speaking to the Senate and Assembly gathered as one body in the assembly chamber, the governor urged them to "adopt substantially" the form of state control embodied in the Dunningan bill for a state control commission of five members, with county boards as merely co-operative, non-licensing bodies.

"The mandatory creation and existence in each county of county boards, fully empowered to regulate the brewing and sale of beer would, I believe, lead straight into the evils of political control," the governor said, "unless such county boards are agencies directly appointed by and responsible to the non-political central state board."

The Dunningan bill, carrying out the governor's plan, has been passed by the Senate and Assembly of New York, as Democratic majority leader of the upper house.

Text of His Address.
"To the Legislature:

"As a result of the every growing opposition toward the Eighteenth Amendment, Congress has taken definite action for the repeal of prohibition and for the return of the control of alcoholic beverages to the several states. Pending ratification of repeal itself Congress has made legal the manufacture and sale of beer containing 3.2 per cent of alcohol; and has very properly left to the several states the task of controlling such beverage. Since this Federal statute takes effect on April 7, it becomes necessary that your honorable bodies adopt at once some form of beer regulation in this state; for, if you do not, the brewing and sale of beer will be wholly uncontrolled after that date.

There is no substantial amount of respectable public opinion in this state in favor of an uncontrolled beer traffic. Several measures now pending before you look toward the establishment of control. It is your duty to select from among them a bill which will provide a decent kind of regulation. If regulation is to be imposed it should be a substantial and conscientious regulation. It should not be a sham and a fraud. There is no purpose in setting up any machinery of control which will be merely an added expense to the taxpayer and which will in fact serve only as a bare pretense.

"I recommended that your honorable bodies adopt substantially the legislation contained in Senate bill, introductory number 1714, printed number 2012, and in Assembly bill, introductory number 2263, printed number 2670. This bill contains the necessary machinery for a proper control of beer, which can be easily made to include liquors of a large alcoholic content, in the event of the final repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"It provides for a state control board to consist of five members of which not more than three may be of one party and the chairman of which is to be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The four remaining members are to be appointed by the Governor and with the advice and consent of the Senate, from lists of names submitted by the governing boards of four representative civic organizations of the state—the State Federation of Labor, the State Bar Association, the State Medical Society and the State Chamber of Commerce. The Governor is not thereby unduly restricted in his choice of appointments. He is privileged to request from these organizations as many names as he may desire. By this method of appointment the danger that membership of the control board may become political and partisan is removed. The state board is given the final right to grant licenses to brew and sell beer, and generally to control all beer traffic in the state. All employees of the state board will be under Civil Service rules. In short, the chances of political patronage are destroyed.

"The central state control board may, if it desires, set up in any county of the state and in the city of New York, a local advisory control board to consult with and make recommendations to the state board. The ultimate control rests, however, with the state board. The mandatory creation and existence in each county of county boards, fully empowered to regulate the brewing and sale of beer therein would, I believe, lead

C.A. Van Wagener Died One of Oldest Members of Ulster County Bar

Prosecuted Pension Claims For Returned Soldiers of the Federal Army—Witness in Lawsuit Involving Division Line Between Livingston and Hardenbergh Patents.

Cornelius Arlington Van Wagener, one of the oldest members of the Ulster County Bar, is dead at the old homestead in Wawarsing, to which place he retired a number of years ago. Funeral services will be held in the Ostrander Funeral Chapel, at Ellenville, Thursday afternoon at 12 o'clock. Mr. Van Wagener was born at Wawarsing August 25, 1840, one of three children of Moses and Elvira MacDonald Van Wagener and was a great-grandson of William MacDonald, a prominent Scotchman who, coming from Scotland, settled in the town of Wawarsing near the fine old Indian fort of Soanissing, where he successfully conducted a large farm. Cornelius Van Wagener married Miss Mary Otis, daughter of Dr. A. Otis, a prominent physician in Ellenville. Mrs. Van Wagener died December 11, 1912. A son, Otis, died in 1894 at the age of 12 years.

MacDonald Van Wagener, a brother of the deceased, was for many years the stenographer for Judge A. T. Clearwater and was also a member of The Freeman's editorial staff. C. A. Van Wagener, after his admission to the bar formed a partnership with the Hon. John Lyon of Ellenville, who had been provost marshal during the War of the Rebellion. The firm of Lyon & Van Wagener successfully prosecuted a large number of pension claims for returned soldiers of the federal army and the families of those who had died on the field of battle.

In addition to being a lawyer Mr. Van Wagener was an accomplished surveyor and was an important witness in the celebrated lawsuit which involved the division line between the Livingston and Hardenbergh patents in Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware counties. This case, which was tried before Judge Clearwater and a jury, over 30 years ago, occupied the time of the court for 29 days and eventually was decided in favor of the successors in title of Johannes Hardenbergh, the grantee under the Colonial patent. This was the second trial involving the location of the Livingston-Hardenbergh patent, the first trial having taken place before Chief Justice John Jay, who held the first term of the Supreme Court under the first constitution of the state, at the court house in Kingston.

On the trial before Judge Clearwater an elderly witness, 96 years of age, was produced in favor of the Hardenbergh contention. He testified that when he was a boy eight years of age he had carried the bag which contained the stakes set by the surveyors when they made the survey of the line.

The records of the former trial were produced before Judge Clearwater. They showed that Aaron Burr conducted the case for the Livingston heirs and that Alexander Hamilton represented the Hardenbergh interests. Judge Clearwater asked the old witness if he recalled Hamilton and Burr, of whom he had spoken as General Hamilton and Colonel Burr. The witness said that he did. He described Burr as a small man, with very large black eyes and Hamilton as a larger man, with a very winning smile.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of Hamilton. The old witness said that everyone went around to the old tavern, subsequently known as the Ulster County House, that stood where the Kingston Savings Bank is now located and Hamilton "blew off" the entire crowd to a drink of gin and bitters, then the leading beverage in what the old man referred to as "Sopos taverns."

In City Police Court.
The police department is continuing to enforce the parking provisions in the up-town business district and on Tuesday afternoon two more arrests were made, one for parking on the southern side of John street and the other for parking in the fire zone on Fair street. Each paid a fine. John Wickowski of Hanrahan street was fined $5 for public intoxication on Hasbrouck avenue.

Conveyed to Hospital.
John C. Groves of Brown Station, an employee of the New York Board of Water Supply, was conveyed to the Benedictine Hospital Tuesday in the private ambulance of W. N. Conner, 296 Fair street.

Proposed Foxhall Avenue Sewer Cost Set at $123,692

So City Engineer Hallinan Figured in Extensive Report Filed With Board of Public Works Who Refer It to Emergency Work Relief Which Has Not That Amount of Funds—Other Matters.

To construct the proposed trunk line sewer in Foxhall avenue would cost $123,692, according to figures submitted by City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan in a report on the project to the board of public works Tuesday evening. The board in turn referred the report to the emergency work relief committee which has not that amount of funds to construct the sewer, which under the city engineer's plan would be built of reinforced concrete. A committee from the common council met with the board to discuss street conditions, and other matters were taken up at the meeting.

The proposed trunk line sewer in Foxhall avenue was to be one of the big emergency work relief projects, the other being the reconstruction of the Boulevard, but under the plan proposed by the city engineer it is hardly likely that the sewer project will be taken up unless the work relief committee finds some way of raising funds. According to Commissioner E. Frank Planagan, who is also a member of the work relief committee, the work relief bureau has about $100,000 left in its treasury.

Goes Back to Paleozoic Era
City Engineer Hallinan has been making a study of the drainage problems in the Foxhall avenue territory since the construction of a trunk line sewer was first proposed. The result of that study was submitted in an exhaustive report filed with the public works board.

Mr. Hallinan does not agree with the findings of Sanborn & Bogert, who filed an exhaustive report on the sewer system of Kingston with the board during the administration of former Mayor Dempsey. Mr. Hallinan in his report states that in order to study the drainage peculiarities of the district it was necessary to inquire into the geology and resulting topography distinguishing the district.

The geologic history of the district goes back to the Paleozoic Era, according to the city engineer, and that era was followed by the Mesozoic Era and later by the Cenozoic Era.

Where Sewer Would Be Built.
According to the report it was proposed to build a lateral sewer on Foxhall avenue from Hasbrouck avenue to Cornell street; to construct a regulator sewer in Cornell street from Ten Broeck avenue to Foxhall avenue, and a trunk line storm water sewer in Foxhall avenue from Cornell street to Albany avenue, to be extended through the Roosevelt Park district.

The proposed sewer would be built of reinforced concrete. Aldermen Met With Board.

Aldermen Epstein, Zucca and McGrane, from the common council, met with the board to discuss street conditions. The aldermanic committee had been appointed at the last meeting of the council. Alderman Epstein said it was the contention of the aldermen that some action should be taken on the numerous resolutions introduced at the council meetings or that the board should report back to the council why action was not taken. Alderman Epstein referred to the recommendations made from time to time by the traffic control committee on which no action had been taken by the public works board. He believed that if the board would submit a report monthly to the council on what action had been taken regarding the resolutions introduced by the aldermen that there would be better feeling between the council and the board.

This opinion was concurred in by Alderman Zucca. Alderman McGrane said that for three years he had been trying to get something done with Summer street, but had been unsuccessful. He also referred to the need of street repairs in Pine Grove avenue, Hoffman street, O'Reilly street, Levan street, Brewster street, Staples street and West Chester street.

Alderman Epstein called attention to the condition of the sidewalk in front of the Gross property on Hasbrouck avenue and Alderman McGrane believed the O'Reilly estate should be notified to lay a sidewalk on Broadway adjoining the high school.

Later in the meeting the board adopted a resolution that the owners of the O'Reilly and Gross properties be notified to lay walks within 30 days or the work would be done by the city at the expense of the property owners.

Murray Street Sewer.
George Purdy was present at the meeting and spoke on the condition of the Murray street sewer. He said that the sewer backed up filling the cellars of the houses on that street, and that it was a menace to health. He said the reason for the backing up of the sewer was the fact that a 10-inch sewer was hooked onto a 12-inch sewer and that the smaller sewer could not take care of the flow in the larger sewer pipe.

The matter was referred to the sewer committee for immediate investigation.

Planned Deepening of Rondout Harbor Is Rejected By Board

Board of Engineers Found, "No Necessity For Larger Channel Dimensions At Present Time"—Objections to Be Heard.

A notice that the proposed improvement of Rondout harbor by the War Department, has met with an unfavorable conclusion based upon the decision that "there is no necessity for larger channel dimensions at this time," has been made by Colonel G. M. Hoffman, Corps of Engineers, Division Engineer, North Atlantic Division, acting for the department, but requesting interested parties to appeal their cases to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., within a month from the present time.

A notation to the effect that if such objections may not be prepared in the given time, notice should be given the board and a request for an extension should be asked.

Further information may be obtained by application to the District Engineer, First District, New York City, Room 710 Army Building, 59 Whitehall street, but attention is directed to the following regulation: "Where interested parties desire data necessary for the preparation of their appeal to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, it will be given them verbally by the District Engineer, or, in his absence, by the senior assistant engineer connected with the improvement. They will not be permitted to have access to the report without authority from the Chief of Engineers."

New Golf Club Will Make Plans Thursday

Funds necessary to construct the new golf course on the Hurley road were subscribed today, announced Thomas Goodman, golf course architect and constructor, who will supervise the building of the new club. With the budget now over the top, a meeting of all subscribers has been called for Thursday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 7:30 o'clock, at which time plans will be made for the forming of a corporation, selecting a name for the club, the election of a board of directors, and the exact date set for the beginning of construction.

Several days ago Mr. Goodman announced that if the funds were provided the work would begin April 1, and that the course would be ready for play in record time, he set the date at July 4. With the provision of funds and the meeting to begin actual operations it is expected that Kingston golfers not already members of a local club will be able to enjoy the game on a home course. The new course is also expected to attract many persons who desire to take up the game but have not until the present been able to do so.

FARMERS DUMP TWO TRUCKS LOADED WITH MILK

Rochester, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Farmers picketing the highway near Bushnell Basin, ten miles southeast of here, stopped two trucks loaded with milk today and dumped the cargo as the long conflict over wholesale milk prices flared up with a producers strike that threatened to tie up half of the city's milk supply. The drivers of the trucks offered no resistance as can after can was poured on the road.

Led by members of the Western New York Milk Producers' Association, about 1,000 dairy farmers have determined to bring no milk into the city today. The action was taken at a meeting yesterday and will extend to April 1, said Albert Woodhead, president of the association.

Reports were current that highways might be picketed in an attempt to prevent other farmers from marketing milk. Officials of the association said they would not countenance any violence and would not support any campaign to dump milk by force.

GOVERNMENT SALARIES CUT 15 PER CENT APRIL 1

Washington, March 29 (AP).—The salaries of all government employees, high and low, will be cut a maximum of 15 per cent, effective next Saturday.

President Roosevelt ordered the reduction yesterday, bringing the previous 8 1-3 per cent reduction under the Hoover administration's furlough system up to the maximum of 15 per cent allowed by the new economy act.

MAY EXTEND TIME FOR PAVING TRUCK LICENSES

A bill calling for an extension of time from April 1 to the 15th on the payment of licenses for trucks and busses passed the State Senate today and went to the Assembly where it was expected to receive like support. Accompanying the bill is a special message to Governor Lehman, urging his signature.

President Roosevelt Asks Congress to Aid Stock Buying Public

Suggests Congress Supervise Investment Securities—Wants Full and Complete Information of Securities Published.

Washington, March 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to provide federal supervision of investment securities.

In another direct special message—his sixth in less than three weeks—the chief executive declared the public has sustained "severe losses" through practices neither ethical nor honest.

Thereupon he proposed to invoke the power of the federal government in interstate commerce traffic to control new securities.

Preparations already were under way in House and Senate to expedite the newest administration legislation. Representative Rayburn (D., Tex.), said hearings would be held by the interstate commerce committee, which he heads, possibly starting tomorrow. He endorsed the bill when the message had been read.

The President also informed Congress he would propose soon legislation "relating to the better supervision of the purchase and sale of all properties dealt in on exchanges."

He also spoke of legislation he has in mind "to correct unethical and unsafe practices on the part of officers and directors of banks and other corporations."

Agents Are Trustees

"What we seek," Mr. Roosevelt said, "is a return to a clear understanding of the ancient truth that those who manage banks, corporations and other agencies handling or using other people's money are trustees acting for others."

The President's text today follows:

"To the Congress: I recommend to the Congress legislation for Federal supervision of traffic in investment securities in interstate commerce."

"In spite of many state statutes the public in the past has sustained severe losses through practices neither ethical nor honest on the part of many persons and corporations selling securities."

"Of course, the Federal government cannot and should not take any action which might be construed as approving or guaranteeing that newly issued securities are sound in the sense that their value will be maintained or that the properties which they represent will earn profit."

"There is, however, an obligation upon us to insist that every issue of new securities to be sold in interstate commerce shall be accompanied by full publicity and information, and that no essentially important element attending the issue shall be concealed from the buying public."

"Seller Beware"

"This proposal adds to the ancient rule of Caveat Emptor, the further doctrine 'let the seller also beware.' It puts the burden of telling the whole truth on the seller."

"It should give impetus to honest dealing in securities and thereby bring back public confidence."

"The purpose of the legislation I suggest is to protect the public with the least possible interference to honest business."

"This is but one step in our broad purpose of protecting investors and depositors."

"It should be followed by legislation relating to the better supervision of the purchase and sale of all property dealt in on exchanges, and by legislation to correct unethical and unsafe practices on the part of officers and directors of banks and other corporations."

"What we seek is a return to a clearer understanding of the ancient truth that those who manage banks, corporations and other agencies handling or using other people's money are trustees acting for others."

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT"

"The White House"
March 29, 1933.

The administration bill was introduced in the Senate immediately the message was read.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority leader, introduced it on behalf of Chairman Ashurst of the judiciary committee. The Senate immediately referred it to that committee for action.

As the message was read to the Senate members followed the text closely on mimeographed copies which had been distributed to them.

COAST GUARD CUTTER TRAILS BOAT TO ALBANY

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—The Knickerbocker Press said today that a freight steamship which arrived in port from San Francisco yesterday, is unloading cargo under the scrutiny of a Coast Guard patrol whose members trailed the vessel for four days.

The vessel steamed into port with a cargo of lumber, and with the patrol boat "115" trailing behind. Commander Chester Fox was quoted as saying he had been given orders to "tail" the vessel.

The captain of the freighter was said to have had no knowledge that his vessel was being followed until the crew saw the beam of the patrol boat's searchlight sweeping across the Hudson River Monday night. Two men from the "115" were stationed on the ship last night, the newspaper said, and the Coast Guard boat was tied alongside.

Three Creeds Voice Protest Against Treatment Of Jews In Germany At Mass Meeting

Prominent Speakers Voice Disapproval of Nazi Action Against German Jew in Large Gathering Sponsored by Kingston Ministerial Association at Y. M. C. A.—Letters Read—Resolution Adopted.

Hitler Government Silent as Nazis Plan Nationwide Boycott

Even school attendance by Jewish children is to be reduced.

Berlin, March 29 (AP).—The Hitler government was silent today as the dominant National Socialist party went ahead organizing committees throughout the country to stop all Jewish business and professional activity by Saturday morning.

Even school attendance by Jewish children is to be reduced. Two Berlin newspapers not dominated by the Nazi party warned the government of the possible effects. A prominent Jewish paper envisaged a revival of the Middle Age ghettos or the isolating of the Jews in separate villages such as those of Egypt throughout Europe.

It was impossible to predict whether the government would intervene. Boycotts already in effect in several sections of the country were being tolerated by the government.

Its immediate attention in the meanwhile was taken up by the strained relations in its own ranks caused by the reported counter-revolution movement in Brunswick involving the Steel Helmet (war veterans) Organization. Only 150 men remained in custody there after the release last night of 1,200 who had been held prisoners 24 hours in the Steel Helmet headquarters. Those still in custody were described as Leftist leaders. The Nazi storm troops, who fought side by side with the Steel Helmets to establish the Hitler regime and shared police duties with them since, had accused the latter of enrolling more than 1,000 former Reichsmen (Republican defense force) men to oust the Nazis.

The order disbanding the Steel Helmets in that state and removing them as auxiliary police will be rescinded Saturday, it was announced. This was decided after a conference between Dietrich Klages, Nazi minister of interior in Brunswick, and Frank Seidte, the national leader of the Steel Helmet and minister of labor in the Hitler cabinet.

Leaders of the Steel Helmet, which is a monarchist organization, declared reports that the incident would have repercussions nationally and tend to outrage Nationalist members of the Hitler cabinet who are closely connected with the group. It was just a "soldiers' row," they said.

A manifesto issued by the Nazi party last night announced the boycott is to be inaugurated at 10 a. m. Saturday "like a blow." It said innocents must not suffer but that the guilty must not be spared. It added the boycott was formulated for defense of the Nazi party "against the atrocious propaganda abroad."

Jews now living in Germany were held responsible for these so-called "libels."

The long-standing Nazi resentment against the influx of Jews into Germany during the World War, because of hostilities in Jewish population centers on the eastern front, and after the war, as a result of persecutions of Jews in other eastern European countries, was reviewed in the statement.

"What would America do if Germans in America turned against that country as do the Jews in Germany?" it asked. "For decades Germany has admitted every foreigner without restriction. One hundred thirty-five persons live on a square kilometer in Germany and in America hardly 15 to the square kilometer. Despite this, America has restricted immigration, even excluding completely certain nationalities."

"The Rev. Mr. Ross, as a Christian in sympathy with the movement to free the Jew of all persecution, said he admired the Hebrews for their contributions to civilization and added that the nation which persecutes them is bringing about its downfall in so doing. 'Many of our basic elements of civilization came from the Jews,' said the clergyman, 'and I am proud to acknowledge it.'"

Cautions Propaganda

The speaker, as a man familiar with many who live or have lived in Germany said, however, "Let us not condemn the people of Germany who are trying to find their way out of oppression since 1933. Let us be exceedingly careful in expressing protest, showing full appreciation of Germany's problems of rehabilitation." The Rev. Mr. Ross also cautioned his listeners not to be too hasty in accepting as the truth stories which may prove to be just propaganda.

Commenting on the talk by the Rev. Mr. Ross, Chairman Ewig said, "We are condemning Hitler and his party. We are sympathizing with the problems of Germany but not with the way she is trying to solve them in persecuting the Jew."

UNPLEASANT INCIDENTS MAR PRINCE'S VISIT

Glasgow, Scotland, March 29 (AP).—A tour of Glasgow by the Prince of Wales today was marred by two unpleasant incidents.

A man, allegedly a Communist, who was addressing a group at a corner, refused to halt his speech while the prince was passing. Police took him off his platform and to a police station.

When the prince visited Saint Roch's Recreational Club, a window was smashed by stones thrown as the royal car drove up. Police were unable to locate those responsible.

There are large numbers of Communists in the Glasgow population. Unusual incidents started at the very moment of the Prince's arrival.

Treasury Receipts.
Washington, March 29 (AP).—Treasury receipts for March 27 were $6,428,867.32; expenditures $5,759,376.42; balance $529,378,971.27. Customs duties for 27 days of March were $14,781,532.35.

The protest meeting sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night at the Kingston Ministerial Association to condemn Hitlerism in Germany concerning the treatment of Jews was attended by approximately 400 persons, who heard several prominent speakers, members of the clergy and laymen, voice their sentiments against the persecution of Jews in Germany as alleged to have been committed.

Those who spoke were Conrad J. Heishman, acting mayor; Rabbi Brilliant of Agudas Achaim; Rabbi Herbert L. Bloom, of Temple Emanuel; City Judge Bernard A. Callahan and the Rev. Goodrich Gates, pastor of the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church. Attorney Arthur B. Ewig was chairman of the meeting. Before announcing the speakers he briefly outlined conditions in Germany, explaining Chancellor Hitler's hatred for the Jew as manifested by him over a period of 13 years.

Acting Mayor Heishman was the first speaker. He sympathized with the Jewish People and their problems, saying he could not understand how any Christian nation could persecute the Jew, especially Germany, to which the Hebrews have contributed much in the way of commercial service and culture.

Not Possible Here.

The speaker got a big ovation when he said, "I am proud to know that such a persecution could not happen under the Stars and Stripes. Always there will be religious prejudice but it is reduced to the minimum here. Have faith in God and in yourselves. The Jews have been persecuted before and overcome it."

Communications expressing regret at not being able to be present because of official duties, and which denounced the treatment of Jews by the Hitlerites, were received from Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Judge John T. Loughran, the Rev. Dr. Robert L. Ross, pastor of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church and the Very Rev. John J. Stanley, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Rabbi Brilliant, of the Synagogue Agudas Achaim, in expressing his sentiments said: "We have to place our case before the highest tribunal of the world—the conscience of humanity. If we are guilty let us be condemned. If we are innocent, and God knows we are, we ask not mercy but justice. If we are innocent let all nations make a law that Jews shall be harassed no longer. We ask that of the world."

Displaying a newspaper containing two pictures, one showing a Jew being punished for asking protection of the police in Germany and the other a false cartoon charging the Jews with sacrificing Christian children in a religious rite, the Rabbi denounced both, saying: "Will there be no end to condemnation against the Jew. I plead to God and man to do away with all injustices against my people. We do not want destruction of our persecutors but the cessation of all wickedness against the Jew and all races. May brotherhood and friendship shine on the entire world."

The Rev. Mr. Ross, as a Christian in sympathy with the movement to free the Jew of all persecution, said he admired the Hebrews for their contributions to civilization and added that the nation which persecutes them is bringing about its downfall in so doing. "Many of our basic elements of civilization came from the Jews," said the clergyman, "and I am proud to acknowledge it."

Commenting on the talk by the Rev. Mr. Ross, Chairman Ewig said, "We are condemning Hitler and his party. We are sympathizing with the problems of Germany but not with the way she is trying to solve them in persecuting the Jew."

City Judge Callahan addressing the audience said, "We of the younger generation cannot fully understand what is going on in Germany, but those of you who grew up on the other side have a broader understanding of what these conditions are. Maybe some of you have undergone the suffering and your feelings are bound to quicken your sympathy. But whether or not that experience has been yours you'll find that

Matters Before The Surrogate

Will of Mary Alice Rivers, late of Ulster Park, who died in Kingston March 1, admitted to probate upon petition of Lewis W. Rivers, husband, who is named executor. Walter N. Gill is the attorney. There is personal estate valued at not to exceed $2,000. All moneys on deposit in the Emigrant Savings Bank, New York city, are left to Edna Westerfield of New York; the rest of the estate is bequeathed to the husband.

Letters of administration in the estate of Herman N. Bernstein, formerly a resident of Greenfield, N. Y., who died in the Veterans' Hospital at Castle Point August 7, issued to Irma R. Bernstein of Ellenville, the widow. Heirs at law and next of kin are the widow, son Robert, mother and sister in Ellenville and a brother, Ernest, of Bayside, N. J. The only estate is a balance of $500 due on war insurance policy. Samuel Z.
Cohen is the attorney.

The will of Anna K. Hoffman, who died in Kingston March 17, recently admitted to probate, disposes of an estate valued at not to exceed $5,000 real and more than $5,000 personal.
Thomas H. Turner of Brooklyn, a brother, is the executor. Walter J.
Miller is attorney. After providing for the erection of a stone on the Henry J. Hoffman plot in Willetts cemetery annex and for the perpetual care of plot the balance of the estate is left to the brother, Thomas H.
Turner.

Will of Katherine Kless, who died in Ellenville January 6, admitted to probate upon petition of Nettie and Carrie Kless, sisters, who are the executrices. There is real estate valued at not to exceed $1,000 and personal of not more than $2,500. N.
G. Cox is the attorney. The will, which was executed in 1922, leaves
the entire estate to three sisters,
Barbara, Nettie and Carrie Kless.

Florence E. Van Gaasbeek of Kingston, widow, is the executrix under the will of Judson Van Gaasbeek, who died in Kingston December 18.

The will, recently admitted to probate, disposes of an estate valued at not to exceed $5,500 real and more than $11,000 personal, income from which, with use of principal if neces-
Beneficiary legatees are the children, speaker. Everyone is invited to attend this mid-week service.

"Same car, Ed!
Salary up?"

"No. Hudson and Essex prices down. This Terraplane 8 is the lowest priced straight 8 in America."

What do present low prices buy in an Essex Ter-raplane?
Champion performance. The Terraplane out-climbs and out-accelerates every other stock-car—under official A. A. A. supervision. (Proof: won the all-time stock-car record up Pike's Peak, broke 12 speed and acceleration records at Daytona Beach.)
Unequaled ruggedness. Engine does less work —the Terraplane uses only 1/3 of its total energy at sixty miles an hour; Patented Duo-Flo oiling system assures more efficient lubrication; stronger unit-built chassis. (Proof: maintained speed of 62 1/2 miles an hour in second gear at Daytona; broke all records over rocky mountain roads in Capetown-Johannesburg run.)
Low price? You bet it's important, when you can get Terraplane values!

The White Cockatoo

BY MIGNON G. EBERHART

CHANCE brought Sue Tally and Jim Sundeen to the same eerie hotel in a provincial French town. An elusive, phantom danger drove Sue to Sundeen with her pitiful plea for help—and from that instant there surged about them terrifying, threatening events.

Murder, shots from the dark, a ghastly face at the window of an unoccupied room, intrigue, mystery, harrowing nights and fearful days... and over it all watched the cold, black, staring eyes of Pucci, the white cockatoo, awaiting the fateful moment to strike. A heart-warming romance with its crashing excitement, it is the most shocking story by this popular author.

KELVINATOR

installed in your home for $97

THIS is not a new "cheap" model brought out to meet a price. Instead, it is a standard model—full-sized, full-powered—selected from our regular 1933 line!

There has been no compromise—on quality—on performance—on size or power. It has more than four cubic feet of food storage space. It has the full-sized, standard Kelvinator compressor—so powerful that it operates only about a third of the time and actually uses less current than compressors of a third its capacity, running all the time. This means less wear, greater economy, and much longer life. No compromise here.

The cabinet is large, roomy, beautifully designed.
It is a heavy, one-piece steel exterior over a rugged steel frame. It has 2 1/2 inches of Kelvinox insulation all around—2 1/2 inches of water-proofed, odorless, indestructible insulation to keep the cold in and the heat out. No compromise here.

There is a Temperature Selector with 8 freezing speeds and the exclusive Kelvinator 3-Zone Cold which supplies three distinct types of refrigeration in the one cabinet. And there are many other features which give this model greater value and utility. No compromise here.

The price of $97.00 is in effect only until material costs increase. When material prices do go up, the price of this model will be increased.
Kelvinator will not skimp on quality—on performance—will not substitute new and untried models or parts just to meet a price. Your satisfaction through the years means too much to us to have you take any such chance.

Let us show you this model—point by point—and we know you will agree that it is the greatest value in electric refrigeration to-day. Easy terms—small down payment. Come in soon and take advantage of the PRESENT LOW PRICE!

Durning Expected to Be New Collector

New York, March 29 (AP)—The American quoted Harry M. Durning today as saying he had been offered the post of Collector of the Port of New York, and that he had signified his willingness to accept.
Durning, born on Manhattan and educated in the public schools, is a Bronx Democrat. He is 45 years old, married and the father of five children. He is a member of a banking and brokerage firm.
The retiring Collector of the Port is Philip Elting, Republican.

Mr. Elting, the retiring Collector, has been the Republican leader of Ulster county for more than 30 years. He was appointed Collector in January, 1923, by President Harding on recommendation of Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman, and James W. Wadsworth, then United States senator.

Mr. Elting was reappointed in January, 1927, by President Coolidge, and again reappointed in February, 1931, by President Hoover.
Kerhonkson Heights.
Kerhonkson Heights, March 29.—Edgar Wilkoff of Lonsville was in this place on Monday.
Friends of Vernon Barnhart of Leibhardt are glad to see him out again after being ill with pneumonia.
Mrs. Tom Page and Mrs. Emerson of Oneonta visited with Mrs. J. Deary over the week-end.
Mrs. J. C. Deary and guests spent Saturday in Livingston Manor.
Elsa Chrysler is doing a good business at his gas station.
Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Van Vleet have returned home after spending a few days with friends out of town.
H. R. Decker is building a new garage for Harrison Brown.
Mrs. R. Krom, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Smith, all of Accord, spent last Thursday with Mrs. W. Krom. A very enjoyable day was spent.

Seek Accomplice in Plot on Mussolini

Rome, March 29 (AP)—Police sought today to determine whether a man charged with seeking to assassinate Premier Benito Mussolini had an accomplice.

The name of the prisoner was not disclosed. Officers said, however, he was from northern Italy and had a wife and family.

One of the statements in an alleged confession, the police said, indicated he had a foreigner for an accomplice. He was alone when arrested March 29 near the premier's palace with a revolver in his pocket. Police, who announced his arrest yesterday, said the man admitted that he intended to shoot Mussolini when the premier left his office.

There have been many attempts on Mussolini, who though he has never seemed to flinch, had a special tribunal set up for such cases. The tribunal has ordered a number of those who sought to kill him shot in the back.

Angelo Sbardellotto, who was arrested a year ago with a pistol in his possession at the premier's palace, was so dealt with.

His was the sixth well-defined plot of that sort.

WEST CAMP.

West Camp, March 29.—The Rev. E. M. Mountz is spending a week in Pennsylvania.
Mrs. Lydia Magee spent Wednesday in Saugerties with Mrs. Katharine Wolcott.
Mrs. Robert Adams and daughter, Jane, of Philadelphia, spent a few days recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Neher.

Mrs. Ida Cole, who has been confined to her home for two weeks, is able to be out again.
Miss Evelyn Neher spent the week-end in Saugerties with her sister, Mrs. Sweeney.

There will be services in St. Paul Lutheran Church in West Camp every Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Ladies' Aid meets every Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Relyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Winchell and Mrs. Harry Coon are spending a week in New Jersey.

The Rev. S. M. Mountz and wife and Frank Relyea spent Friday in Kingston.

A delightful luncheon was given by Mrs. Mabel Somerville of Catskill recently. Those attending from here were Mrs. L. B. Stanton, Mrs. Grant Thompson and Mrs. Nelson Winchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Finch entertained the Cheroke Club Thursday evening. All report an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Hattie Relyea has returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Merritt Relyea, Jr., of Asbury.

Mrs. Mildred Magee and friend of Kingston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Magee.

Farm Relief Bill Facing Revision

Washington, March 29 (AP)—A compromise farm relief bill ready for the senate by Friday or Saturday was the aim today of Chairman Smith as the senate agriculture committee turned to revising the administration plan.

Indications were that the broad authority given the secretary of agriculture under the house-approved Roosevelt bill, would be trimmed considerably. The new measure was expected to retain the cotton-pool plan and possibly include some form of a domestic allotment and price guaranty proposal.

A number of senators, among them McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, indicated they would seek to have the commodities in the revamped plan limited to wheat and cotton.

Hearings were concluded yesterday, with nearly a dozen witnesses testifying, mainly in opposition to giving Secretary Wallace unprecedented authority for making a try at bringing the farmer's purchasing power back to pre-war standards.

Oswego Plans Beer Parade
Oswego, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—Plans for a beer parade, to celebrate the return of legal brew in Oswego are being made by Mayor John F. Otis.

He will lead the parade himself, although, he said, he does not use 3.3 beer or any other per cent.

Two Contests In Connection With Play

Two interesting contests will be held in connection with the play, "Little Women," which will be presented by the Clara Tree Major Children's Theatre Company at the Broadway Theatre on Tuesday morning, April 18, at 10:30.

To the boy or girl residing in and attending school in Ulster county, who submits the best criticism of not more than 200 words on the production of "Little Women," a prize of $5 will be given. All manuscripts must be written in ink, on one side of the paper, and the name and address of the child submitting the manuscript, together with the name of the school which the child attends, must be clearly written in the upper right hand corner.

All manuscripts must be postmarked not later than midnight of Monday, April 24, and should be addressed to Mrs. Charles de la Vergne, Jr., 249 Clinton avenue.

The second contest, also eligible to any boy or girl residing in and attending school in Ulster county, is a poster contest. For the best poster 24 inch by 20 inch in size, which most effectively describes and advertises the play "Little Women," a prize of five dollars will be given.

The winning poster will be displayed in the lobby of the Broadway Theatre, together with the name of the child winning the contest. All posters must be submitted not later than midnight of Monday, April 10, and should be sent to Mrs. Charles de la Vergne, Jr., 249 Clinton avenue.

Mendelssohn Club Concert Soloist

The soloist at the Mendelssohn Club concert on Thursday evening, April 6, will be Miss Dorothy Bowen, soprano soloist of Chicago. While well known for her fine voice and charming personality in New York, she is especially a favorite in the middlewest where she has sung as soloist with all of the outstanding choral clubs and orchestras.

Miss Bowen has Welsh ancestry. While singing in Europe she was invited to give a concert in the ancestral stronghold of the Bowen family, a beautiful medieval castle in Pembroke, Wales.

Miss Bowen has gained the enviable reputation of singing unbacked programs, with always a dramatic interest and a bit of humor in her songs. She complies her programs with a great love for the text as well as for the music, believing that both and the singer are necessary to the full art of the world of song.

While having many very interesting press notices, the following sentence from a mid-west musical critic is high praise: "This is a charming girl—a thoroughbred and a genuine artist."

Sunday School Meeting.
The Sunday school board of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will meet Thursday night at 8:30 in the church basement of tonight.

VALIANT DUST

by Percival Christopher Wren

Chapter 45
THE TRAP IS SPRUNG
A SOUND. The turning of a key in the lock.

The door opened, and the Great Kaid, Haroun Abdallah Karim, stood in the doorway.

He entered the room, and, like a following shadow, the giant negro, Ibrahim the Lion, stooping through the six-foot doorway, followed his master.

Softly the door closed behind him, and Le Sage suppressed a sigh of relief.

Intent upon his victim, the Kaid noticed not the absence of his trusted Vizier, and, in the noise of his booming speech, the faint, almost inaudible sound of a turning, well-oiled key, was lost.

Seating himself on the throne, his bodyguard and secretary behind him, the Kaid smiled again.

"Asalamu, aleikum!" he boomed. "How is your health? Well? That is well. We would have you get the fullest enjoyment from such life as may remain to you by the Grace of Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate."

Le Sage bowed and seated himself. "I trust that Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate, will not only give the Great Kaid many long years of health, but to me at least an equal number in which I may know that he is—safe where no enemy can reach him, and—"

Leaning back upon his throne, his great jeweled sword across his knees, the Kaid gave vent to his humor in his great roaring laugh for which he was not only famous, but feared.

And scarcely had that hoarse roar of dreadful laughter begun before there was another roar, a shout, a cry in Cockney English.

"My Gawd! It's 'im! It's 'im!" as Salior Harris raved to his feet. "E ung my chum on the 'ooks!"

And, leaping the settee as he shouted, Salior Harris, his fixed bayonet at the charge, rushed upon the Kaid.

Even as Le Sage sprang to his feet, the madman lunged and drove the long lean bayonet through the heart of the Kaid.

"Take that, you bloody torturer," shouted the mad Harris, as he drew forth his bayonet and stabbed again. "Ready," shouted Le Sage, striking Ibrahim the Lion on the side of the head with all his strength, as the latter stooped to seize the Kaid's sabre.

As Ibrahim staggered and almost fell Otho leaped upon him, bringing him to the ground, while William Bossum, with excess of zeal, gave the unfortunate scoundrel so heavy a right-hand on the point of his jaw that he crashed to the ground and lay as one dead.

In a moment Ibrahim the Lion sighed, relaxed, closed his eyes and lay still.

"Well, my man," said Le Sage, turning to the panting Salior Harris. "You solved a problem—with the bayonet. What were your orders?"

"I forgot myself, Sir," panted Salior Harris. "E laughed like that when 'e killed my chum an' tortured me. 'E'd have 'ad 'em on the 'ooks, Sir."

"What were your orders?" "I see red, Sir. I went mad when I 'eard 'im laugh."

"We'll call it that, then; madness. All right now?" "Yes, Sir."

Suddenly there was a swift, tremendous swirl of struggling humanity.

Ibrahim the Lion had suddenly drawn up his legs, flexed his mighty arms, shot out his feet, sent flying the man whose bayonet was at his throat, crashed together the heads of the men who held his arms, and struggled free.

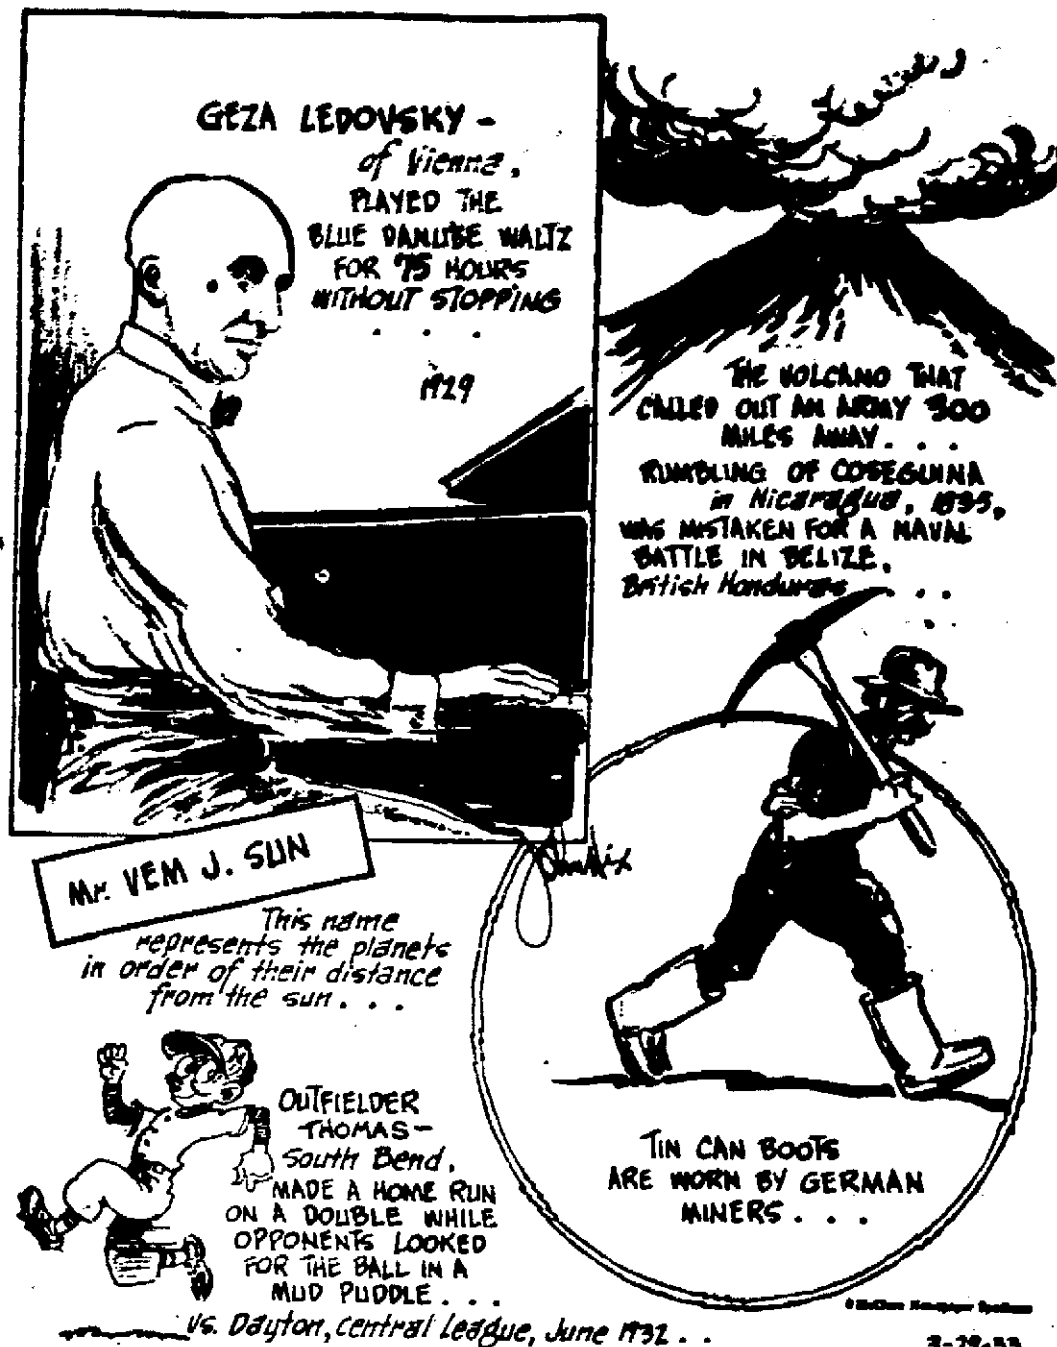

Leaping like a man of India, rubber to his feet, he snatched his master's sword and sprang at Le Sage. Ere the great shining blade could descend, and cleave Le Sage's skull, Otho struck.

With his bare fist he drove a tremendous well-aimed smashing blow between the giant's eyes, driving him staggering back.

A sinister poison further complicates tomorrow's scene.

Nowhere in history is it recorded that an armed force was called out to fight an active volcano. But it did happen that troops were mobilized once because a volcano erupted. When the volcano Cosequina, in Nicaragua, erupted in 1895, it was mistaken for a naval engagement off the coast of Belize, 300 miles away. Officials at Belize ordered the troops there mobilized to be ready for the impending danger.

It is as easy to remember the names of the planets in order of their distance from the sun, as to remember a name. Mr. VEM J. Sun represents Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. Mercury being the nearest to the sun. It is easy if you remember that "Mr." stands for Mercury, V. stands for Venus, E. for Earth, while the M in VEM is for Mars. Of course, if you have trouble remembering names perhaps it would be easier to memorize the names of the planets.

Proving that sometimes a well placed hit is a lot better than a long one. Outfielder Thomas of the South Bend club in the Central League, stretched a two-bagger into a homer because his hit was so well placed that opposing outfielders could not find it. The ball was safely hidden in a mud puddle.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

SLIGHT FEVER.

I sometimes wonder if the clinical thermometer in the home is helpful or harmful.

In a general way it is helpful because it shows whether or not there is any fever or rise in temperature, and it is naturally important that if there is fever it should be known.

However if the thermometer shows any rise in temperature the first thing to remember is that although there may be something wrong, the fact that there is this amount of fever means that the body is resisting it, and one of the body's methods of resisting disease or infection is to increase the heat in the body.

Thus if there is some fever or rise in temperature the doctor should be notified and then any further action should be left with him.

It is a great mistake to immediately use a drug to reduce temperature. Dr. H. A. Reimann, Minneapolis, states that evidence has been presented by many investigators to show that fever is of great benefit in helping the defense forces of the body against infection.

There are four outstanding ways in which fever exerts this "beneficial influence":

1st. It prevents the too rapid growth of harmful organisms.

2nd. It lessens the power of the poisons which are in the body.

3rd. It helps the white corpuscles to fight and kill harmful organisms.

4th. It stimulates what are called the immune bodies in the blood. These immune bodies prevent or delay the effects of various diseases.

Fever makes the plasma, the liquid part of the blood, more "sticky" and this very stickiness prevents the harmful organisms from multiplying too fast and being carried to all the tissues.

You can thus see that while a little rise of temperature is a true warning that there is trouble in the body, and this trouble must be watched carefully, nevertheless giving drugs to reduce this temperature is really preventing the body putting up its best fight against infection.

However, when the temperature gets very high the physician will bring it under control—but not necessarily to normal—by the use of temperature reducing drugs.

(Read Psalm 47:8-11.)

The Works of the Lord.

This Psalm was written in some ancient time of peace when the singer's land was secure and he ascribed the work of peace to God.

There have been wars enough since that they have not been the Lord's work. War is the work of human passion, folly and wickedness. Peace is the work of the Lord. Whatever is peace-loving, peace-pursuing, peace-making is nearest the divine; they shall be called the sons of God.

It is not easy to be a peacemaker; it needs wisdom, patience, forbearance, endurance, good-will. So-called statesmen make war because they are not wise nor strong nor good enough to make peace. The sons of God seek peace and pursue it and peace must begin in our own spirits.

When all God's children have established the empire of peace in their own minds and wills, war will be ended. To do this is to do the work of the Lord.

Prayer: Grant unto us, Thy children, Lord of the peace of the earth and the obedient stars, to become through our love of peace the sons of God. Forgive us the devotion we have made, forgive us the folly of our armaments and the passion of our uneasy spirits. Make us Thy fellow-workers for righteous peace and arm us only with Thy good-will. In His name Who is the Prince of Peace. Amen.

American Heromes

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Cynthia Ann Parker

WHEN her relatives finally found her, and restored her to the birthright which was hers as a white woman of good family, Cynthia Ann Parker looked like an Indian, her skin burned brown under the hot sun of the western plains, her clothing a dirty blanket and worn moccasins, and she acted like one.

Here was a strange story. The Parkers came pioneering into Texas between 1835 and 1840, when Texas had just wrested independence from Mexico, and bands of hostile Indians and marauding Mexicans still roamed the sparsely settled plains. They settled near the present site of Groesbeck. Only a little later, during an attack by the Comanche Indians, Cynthia Ann and her small brother were captured and carried away.

Years passed before the white girl learned of the fate of the little girl. Then a band of hunters, visiting the camp of the Comanches, now turned friendly, saw her there, grown to young womanhood. They finally persuaded the red men to allow them to talk with her. But it was an unsatisfactory interview.

More years went by. The white girl was married, after the Indian custom, to a brave named Peta Nocona, and bore him a son, destined to become known throughout the nation as Quanah Parker, chief of the Comanches, one of the most noble and famous of the red men.

When Texas achieved statehood, military force was organized to clear her borders of the menacing red men. During an expedition led against the Comanches by Capt. L. S. Ross, Peta Nocona was killed and Cynthia Ann captured, carried away from her son and her red friends and restored to the whites. Still her face was an impenetrable mask. She seemed to have no recollection of her own language or people. Finally Captain Ross resorted to the happy device of relating to her, detail by detail, but as if it had happened to someone else, the story of her own childhood. When he told of the Indian raid and kidnapping, her face at last lit with recognition. Pointing a grimy finger at herself she said, "My Cynthia Ann."

At Austin, Texas, she was placed in the home of a brother. But she was here as restless as if in actual captivity, and only a few years later she died.

AUTO PARTY WATCH DEER ON ASHOKAN RESERVOIR LAND

An auto party from Kingston on Monday drove up around the Ashokan reservoir and after crossing the bridge between the east and west basins of the Ashokan reservoir they were startled to see two deer grazing near the wire fence that separates the reservoir land from the highway. The deer were seen in the woods between the reservoir bridge and the bridge over the U. S. D. railroad tracks. The deer did not seem frightened but as the car approached closer they glanced up and disappeared in the thick underbrush.

Believe You Can!!
Believe that—YOU CAN—and you will not fail.
Though mighty the task be!
Believe that—YOU CAN—though hard the trail,
And rugged the road you run!

Have FAITH in yourself! Just know—YOU CAN—
And you're simply bound to—DO—
And never a barrier, bar or ban—
Can keep you from—CARRYING THROUGH!

Believe—YOU CAN—and then go in And—DO—with your heart and soul!
Believe that—YOU CAN—and you'll surely win;
No matter how far the goal!

There's a marvelous force in the faith that springs
From this great and noble thought
By the magic spell of the strength it brings—
The—MIGHTIEST DEEDS—are wrought!

Believe that—YOU CAN—and you will succeed!
For as sure as you hold this thought,
You will back your faith with the POWER OF DEED:
Till the last hard fight is fought!
Are, HOLD TO THE THOUGHT and you'll do your part
In the way that it should be done!
Just start with—A WINNER'S FACE AND HEART
And your battle is—really won!

ROCHESTER REFORMED CHURCH CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONTEST

Accord, March 29.—A few weeks ago, through a suggestion of Mrs. Howard Anderson, a contest was started in the Rochester Reformed Church Christian Endeavor of Accord. Two leaders were chosen, the Rev. Ben. Scholten and William Anderson. One object of the contest is to see which side can gain the most credits. Credits being given for attendance, speaking, vocal and instrumental music, dramas, pantomimes, etc. The losing side is to give a banquet to their opponents.

Among the outside speakers are: The Rev. C. C. Clifton, of Hurley; the Rev. C. Van Tol, of Stone Ridge; C. A. Raschke, of Kingston; L. C. Dixon, of Marletown; Clarence Howard, of High Falls and Allgerville, and the Rev. F. Hastings, of Kerhonkson.

William Craig of West Hartford, Conn., and Walter Moberg of Patterson, N. Y., who are exceptionally good singers and whose voices are often heard over the radio, were also present. Their selections were enjoyed very much. Mr. Craig's mother and Mrs. Moberg were with them and seemed to be enjoying the 130 mile trip to the meeting. They were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gazlay.

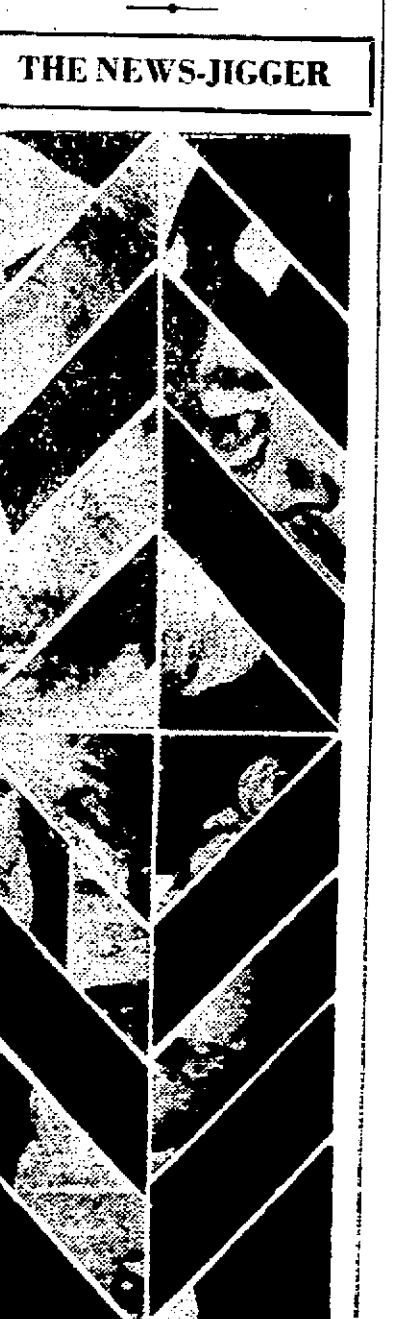

Other talent, both instrumental and vocal, from the outside and local are being very much enjoyed. The meetings have been well attended, 175 being the high mark, and the credits are running very close. Each side is beginning to taste the other side's chicken.

Negligence Actions Taken Up for Trial

Negligence actions brought by Edgar Wood and Anna D. Wood against Harris Brown to recover damages growing out of an automobile collision at Pearl and Green streets, were taken up for trial this morning in supreme court. The actions were previously tried and a judgment rendered. Brannigan & Elworth appear for plaintiffs and A. J. Cook and Miss Julia Cook appear for defendant. Caverly & Hendrickson, attorneys of record for defendant.

F. W. Brooks for Henry Cole, attorney for defendants. Hillis Sanford and Clifford Sanford, at the opening of court this morning moved to set aside the verdict of the jury in the Josephine Tourist vs. Sanford action, in which a $5,000 verdict was awarded plaintiff. The motion was denied and defendants then asked for a stay of 30 days to take an appeal and if an appeal is taken within that time, 30 additional days. Granted.

Judge Culliton also moved to set aside the verdict in No. 36, Mary Whiting against Sidney E. Hull, a verdict of no cause of action. That motion was also denied.

A jury was taken in the Wood-Brown actions which were continued.

New Swimming Pool Waits on Weather

The estimated pool across the stadium, constructed for Frank and James Van Valkenburg and Andrew McLean, who built the tubular swimming pool, and started the new armory is ready for use as soon as weather permits. The owners have announced. They expect to formally open the pool, to the public, on Tuesday, May 30 Memorial Day.

According to the Van Valkenburgs, the pool with its under-water lighting effect, construction for changing the water, continually and being heated, has passed state inspection. They claim the pool to be the biggest between New York and Albany and expect that it will prove popular with bathers this summer.

30th Wedding Anniversary.

Mombass, March 28.—A happy gathering of relatives met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William DePuy on Friday, March 24, to join in the celebration of their 30th wedding anniversary. All enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner prepared by their son, Ralph DePuy, who is chef at the Hotel Suyvassant in Kingston. His capable wife assisted with all the details. The menu included turkey, with dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed and sweet potatoes, celery, pickles, olives, radishes, green beans, fruit salad with whipped cream, dressing, fruit punch, rolls, coffee, ice cream, cake and after-dinner mints. The decorations were very beautiful, featured sweet peas and maiden hair ferns. There were appropriate favors at each place at the table. In the center of the table was a large three-story wedding cake, beautifully decorated with a bride and groom ornament, which was another triumph for the chef. Guests present at the joyful occasion besides the honored couple, were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DePuy of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke Churchhill of Kerhonkson, the Rev. and Mrs. A. Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Etten, Ambrose Van Etten, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Etten and little son, Alf. The delicious repast, Mr. Churchhill was forced to return to his duties as manager of the A. and T. store in Kerhonkson. The other guests remained for the afternoon and evening and spent a delightful time, visiting, playing and singing good old hymns and the popular jic saw puzzle had its share of attention. The Rev. Mr. Quick, who is 55 years young, a retired M. E. minister and uncle of the bride of 50 years ago, together with other guests joined in singing old hymns. He proved that he still retained some of the qualities of his excellent bass voice. He enjoyed the festivities as keenly as the youngest member of the group. Harold Eugene Van Etten, who is his great great nephew. When the time came for departure, all joined in saying, "God be with you till we meet again." Heartfelt good wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. DePuy, Jr. for the delightful day. Mr. and Mrs. DePuy received substantial gifts of money and many valuable articles. Mr. and Mrs. DePuy, Jr. also had a wedding anniversary on Saturday, March 25, and they received their share of good wishes and many happy returns of the day. Mr. and Mrs. DePuy, Sr. also received a shower of candy, appropriate to the occasion from relatives and friends. They also received a telegram of congratulations from friends in New Jersey.

5,000 Men Ready At 81

Buffalo, N. Y., March 28 (AP)—An official survey of men applying at city, county and state work and welfare bureaus today disclosed that 5,000 men or more are willing to take jobs at $1 a day and subsistence under President Roosevelt's plan to put 250,000 men to work in the national forests.

Paraffin Is Found Good To Keep Water Lily Awake

The Missouri Botanic Garden Bulletin refers to the fact that the day-blooming water lilies will not keep open at night. Recent experiments at the garden have definitely shown that it is possible to keep the flowers of the day-blooming water lilies open continuously for several days by treatment with paraffin. With the aid of a medicine dropper melted paraffin is carefully applied in small quantities to the extreme lower portions of the stamens, the petals, and the sepals. It is highly important to use a paraffin with a low melting point, 45 degrees C. or less, in order to prevent injury to the floral tissue. Rapid cooling of the paraffin after contact with the flower is essential. The melted paraffin is uniformly dispersed among the bases of the stamens, petals and sepals, forming a cast which holds the floral parts rigidly in place, thus preventing the normal closing of the flower. When the operation is carefully done the paraffin is hardly visible even at close range, and the flower appears perfectly natural. If necessary, the paraffin may be used with dye to match the colors of the flower. —Rural New-Yorker Magazine.

Displacement of Liners

In the days of Columbus the larger ships displaced only 400 to 500 tons. Several modern liners have more than 20,000 tons displacement.

Temperatures of Liners

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Government representatives attending the oil conference today gave tentative approval of federal control in the petroleum industry, which is being considered by Secretary Ickes.

Lowell Club

The Lowell Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fessenden. The resignation of Mrs. Delaplaine was received by the club, and was accepted with sincere regret as she had been a member of the club for 35 years. Mrs. Delaplaine was made an honorary member of the club. The roll call for the afternoon was quotations from American authors. Mrs. Fessenden had the first paper of the afternoon on "Early American Writers," which she made very entertaining and informative. The New England School of Writers was the subject of an interesting paper given by Miss Pettigrew and was followed by another interesting paper on "Favorite Authors of the Eighties and Nineties," offered by Mrs. Conklin. Mrs. Hale's excellent paper on "Outstanding Literary Names of the Twentieth Century" was read for her in her absence from the meeting. The next and last meeting for the season of the Lowell Club will occur next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Van Wagoner when the election of officers will be held.

Vonnel model illustrates combination of satin with short fur and spring coat is largely what you make it. Also any color, not of course, omitting black.

Fox is by all odds the most popular fur. If you decide to have.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A Pretty Afternoon Frock
7825. The ever becoming cowl is featured in this model; it has also a pretty sleeve with ruffled shoulder, and short and flaring. The waist line is slightly above the shaped girder. The skirt boasts of center seams, and a straight line flare. The collar is rolled on the right side and forms a scarf over the left side.

Printed silk in a new pattern on a bright background was chosen for this model. It is also attractive in crepe satin, or in the new crinkly crepes, with contrasting material or color for the collar, cowl and girder. Designed in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42. Size 36 will require 2 1/2 yards of contrasting material for cowl, collar and skirt. It made of 3/4 inch material (without contrast) it will require 1 1/2 yards. If skirt portions are cut on the bias it will require 4 1/2 yards of 3/4 inch material together with 3/4 yard of 7/8 inch contrasting material for the dress. The width of the dress at the lower edge is 1 1/2 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

STYLIST WILL ADDRESS MEETING HERE THURSDAY

The ladies of Kingston and Ulster county will have the opportunity Thursday to hear Mrs. Evelyn Tobey of Columbia University who will be in Kingston to give them the latest style trends and to help them with their many clothing problems. The meeting begins at 10:30, is an all day meeting and will be held in the Sunday school rooms of the First Dutch Church. A large crowd is anticipated.

No Cause of Action.
A verdict of no cause of action was returned in the negligence action brought by Mary Whitley against Sidney E. Hull in supreme court. The action grew out of a crash on Hurley avenue between the Hull truck and a car of plaintiff operated by her chauffeur. A counter claim was entered by Hull for damages to his car.

Secures Office Position.
Miss Evelyn Decker, an honor graduate of the shorthand department of Spencer's Business School, 237-239 Fair street, has secured a permanent position as stenographer, typist and office assistant with King's Department Store, Livingston Manor.

Up To Our Necks In Detail

Copyright, 1933, by Fairchild.

The three-tiered collar at the right of the group is of box pleated organdie, trying on with a little bow at the neck.

Left top sketch shows a finely worked lattice also of organdie, the strips held together by hand fagoting, and the collar shaped in a new looking outline.

The very youthful looking little rounded edge Peter Pan type, which is the third sketch, is also done in lattice strips and fagoting.

Tied to the Apron Strings DID YOU KNOW THAT

From the little baby big that was just an incidental of last spring, has grown the full size apron of this year which is a highlight of the last fashions from Paris. The apron is interpreted either as a panel or else serves as a skeleton "top surface" in real apron fashion for convenient styled dresses.

This apron has come through in many different ways. For instance, the pleated apron is a development, while in entirely different expression is an apron panel applied back and front to a straight, narrow skirt. So much for the apron that is mainly a matter of skirt design and which is a good-will agent in arousing interest in straight lines.

MODENA.
Modena, March 22.—A group of men employed by the Department of Highways were in this section of the town Monday, repairing the most dangerous places in the roadbed of the state highway.

A number of fruit growers in this vicinity commenced spraying fruit trees during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cor were callers on relatives in Ardenia Monday afternoon.

Harry Edler of Flattekill was a caller in this place Monday.

Theodore Ross has employment with the Lathrop and Shea Construction Co., at work on the overhead bridge in Modena.

Max Skyer of Newburgh was a business caller in Modena Monday.

Miss Marion Palmer was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cor and daughter, Gladys, during the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seymour were out-of-town callers Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Carroll and family entertained company at their home Sunday.

James George of Gardiner was a business caller in town Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paltridge of Ardenia will move into the farm house of Joseph Hasbrouck, Jr., in Modena Friday, March 31.

A number of young folks in Modena and vicinity tendered a farewell party to Miss Frances Brown, who with her people will move to Ellenville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart of Modena are moving to Ardenia this week, to occupy the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paltridge.

How can these expensive coffees COST YOU SO LITTLE

A & P Coffees are expensive coffees—at the plantations in South America. As the world's largest coffee buyer, we always have first choice of the crops. We pay an extra premium, when necessary, to obtain the quality we insist upon.

But these fine coffees cost you little because we bring them to you from the planter direct—bought, shipped, distributed, roasted and sold—all by A & P and all at one small profit.

And because they are roasted in our widely distributed local roasting plants, we are able to deliver them frequently to your neighborhood A & P Store, inexpensively packed, still in the bean, with all the flavor of freshly roasted coffee protected by nature's own unbroken seal.

Your coffee is then ground before your eyes exactly right for your method of making—and the aroma of over-fresh coffee in every A & P Store is your guarantee of the natural freshness of A & P Coffee.

This is A & P Coffee Service. No other coffee merchant has it. So A & P alone can offer you these coffee coffees at these low prices.

AND REMEMBER,
the coffee you like best is the best for you,
no matter what it costs.

A & P COFFEE SERVICE

Cincinnati Promises Mighty Attempt to Climb from Bottom

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

The Cincinnati Reds should have a kick-start for their fellow men, in or out of baseball. The club changed ownership in that far-off October of 1920 and has been struggling ever since to keep from sliding right out of the National League.

Simultaneous with the National "New Deal," the Reds have changed leaders, substituting Donie Bush for Dan Howley, who labored manfully in a vain attempt to overcome heavy odds. The consequence is that with Bush's injection of a fiery new team spirit, the acquisition of the veteran Jim Bottomley to handle first base and the return of the slugging Chick Hafey to sound health, Cincinnati promises a mighty attempt to climb out of the cellar this season.

The trouble is that most of the other National League clubs are improved too, as a result of widespread belief that at least five or six teams have a good chance to figure in the pennant hunt.

Another Pitcher Needed. To get anywhere the Reds need another good starting pitcher to assist Red Lucas and St. Johnson. They have a hopeful eye on the St. Louis Cardinals, who have helped the Reds plug many a gap so far, but it will take something besides friendship and persuasiveness to pry loose a winning pitcher from the Red Birds. The market price for this commodity is soaring rapidly.

If President Sidney Weil and Manager Bush do not succeed in landing another seasoned pitcher, they will have to rely again on getting results from Bonnie Frey, Ray Kopp, Larry Benton, John Ogden, Eppa Rixey and Bob Smith, in addition to the two Grade-A twirlers—Lucas, who pitched more complete games than any other in the league last year, and Johnson. No promising newcomers have developed.

Good Defense. "If we don't set the table for the other fellows and if we can keep what runs we make, the Reds are going to be tough to beat," promises Bush. "We have a good defense with the hole at third base plugged by Joe Morsoney, who has developed amazingly, or by Otto Bluege, who has had three years experience in the minors.

Grantham at second, Bottomley on first and Durocher at short will round out a good infield. Harry Rice or Wally Rootger will give us a punch in right field where Babe Herman performed last season. Hafey, of course, is a fixture in left and Johnny Moore's fine hitting may give him the call over Taylor Douthitt in center. We don't need to worry about our catching with big Ernie Lombardi, Clyde Manion and Halley Hensley on the job. Lombardi's hitting will break up a lot of games.

"If we can get some pitching along with a few breaks, the Reds will no longer be regarded as push-overs."

Repeaters To End Season In Double

Manager Dick Dullin, of the Morgan Repealers, plans ending the season at White Eagle Hall Friday in a novel and spectacular manner. He hopes to send his warriors into action against two outstanding teams in a doubleheader bill that should pack the place, according to his method of figuring out just what the fans desire.

Dullin will select opponents from the following list of clubs who are desirous of meeting the big green and white brigade: Tony Gentile's Kingston, Hebrew-Americans, St. Mary's Big Five, the Counsellors and the Z. N. P. The latter club holds a two-point win over the opponents of the 15th amendment, but Manager Dullin contends the victory was a fluke.

Further announcements concerning the double bill will be made later.

Ducklings Play Bruckmen Tonight

The Long Island Ducklings make their second appearance in this vicinity tonight when they clash with Pete Bruck's Stone Ridge team at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, starting at 8:45 o'clock. The same lineup of girls that defeated the Beckwiths at the new armory will oppose the Brucks who will take the floor augmented by two girls from the Rockne-Mabel Wood and Violet Hale. In the preliminary at 8 o'clock the Z. N. P. plays the Knights of Columbus.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

This is a story about the great struggle that the undergraduate athletes themselves are making at Cornell University to keep their sports program going this year under a "cash and carry" system, but it is typical of the spirit manifest now in dozens of other colleges and universities in the United States.

Rather than abandon their annual trip to Boston for the triangular track meet with Harvard and Dartmouth, the Cornell boys did some quick figuring. They allowed for a drop of 25 per cent in the gate receipts, anticipating the meet would draw at least $3,000. It never had gone below $4,000. Each member of the Red team paid a deposit of $10 before leaving Ithaca, as a further precaution against a deficit, but with the hope and conviction that they would get this back and have some money for the intercollegiate the following week.

It didn't look like much of a risk, especially as Harvard made arrangements to house the visiting athletes and helped in every way to reduce expenses. But on the night of the meet Boston was blanketed with a snowstorm and the gate receipts fell to a new low, only $2,200. The Cornell boys competed with the knowledge their personal deposits not only were lost, but that they probably would be assessed further.

As a result only a handful of Cornell athletes were able to make the trip to the championship meet in New York. One of them, Captain Joe Mangano, finished second in the mile run despite being badly spiked on the first lap, but he was forced to withdraw from the two-mile relay.

Sportsmanship Landlord. "The fact that the Cornell men made the trip to Boston in the first place was striking evidence of the fact that athletes in American colleges are the result of a spontaneous desire and enthusiasm for competition by undergraduates," commented the Harvard A. A. News.

Their spirit, their sportsmanship, their competition in no way reflected their knowledge of their personal loss and every Dartmouth and Harvard man who knew the facts could not help but say admiringly: "What boys! Cornell should be proud of them!"

Don't Overlook Yale. Most of the Eastern sharps have been picking Pennsylvania or New York University to top the Eastern track and field heap, whether or not the West coast sends a delegation for the I. C. A. A. A. outdoor championships, but it now appears Yale will have considerable voice in the argument.

The way the versatile Keith Brown and his agile associates performed in capturing the indoor title meet indicates the Elis can figure on having about 25 points "in the bank," barring accidental developments. This will make it tough for any other outfit unless Southern California decides to send on a full team in defense of the championship.

It is worth noting that the last time any Eastern college broke up the Far Western parade in this classic meet was 1924, when Yale won by a thin margin from Stanford.

St. Mary's Big Five Outscores Polish

Unable to stop Bobby Cullum, who pranced about the court at the White Eagle to toss the ball in for 18 points, the Z. N. P. Club lost Tuesday night to St. Mary's Big Five by the score of 24-32. Taking the lead early in the fray the visitors stayed in the van throughout the battle, overthrowing the Zumps who contemplated another win such as they recently rolled up over the powerful Morgan Repealers.

Individual scores were: St. Mary's (32)—Long, rf. 4; Graney, lf. 1; Melville, c. 5; Cullum, rf. 18; Henderson, lg. 2; Mills, lg. 2; Z. N. P. (24)—Knoch, rf. 4; Kleffer, rf. 16; Druki, lg. 4. Score at half time: St. Mary's 15; Z. N. P. 11. Referee, Spitzer.

Latest News from The Baseball Front

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 29. (AP)—Sam Byrd and Dusty Cooke, it seems now, will be retained as the New York Yankees' reserve outfielders for 1933.

Myrl Hoag was sent to Newark on option yesterday and Fred Walker probably will follow before the season opens. Walker has been a brilliant performer all spring but he still can be sent out on option while Byrd and Cooke cannot. They've already been farmed out the maximum number of times under baseball rules.

Always Some Trouble. Bradenton, Fla., March 29. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers finally have started hitting only to discover that their pitching has turned sour.

Max Carey's charges banged out ten hits, including two doubles and a triple, against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday but Thurston's mediocre pitching enabled the Cards to win 7-4. Previously Carey had been getting excellent pitching but no hitting.

Still Lacks Control. Beaumont, Texas, March 29. (AP)—Roy Parmelee, young right-handed fast ball pitcher with plenty of stuff on the ball, still is lacking that vital matter of control.

This promising New York Giants' recruit struck out five men in six innings of yesterday's exhibition game against Detroit but walked four, hit two batsmen, loosed one wild pitch and was socked for seven hits and seven runs.

BILLIARDS

City Championship. Tuesday night at Nicks, "Hotch" Alcon defeated "Pie" Murphy by the score of 100-83. High runs were Murphy 20, Alcon 15.

Tonight at the Koenig A. C. Charlie Bovie plays Jot Marabella.

Tri-Club Tourney. Johnny Bernardi outscored "Rookie" Prusack 100-62 Tuesday.

High runs were Bernardi 14, Prusack 13.

At the Hasbrouck Social Club tonight Leo Landewar meets Art Nelson.

JOE KIRKWOOD LEADS DOWN HOME STRETCH

Pinehurst, N. C., March 29. (AP)—Joe Kirkwood led a score of the nation's greatest golfers down the home stretch here today as play began on the last 36 holes of the north and south open, one of the winter's richest stakes.

Kirkwood held a four-stroke lead as this morning's round began, having turned in a 135 for the first 36, seven under par.

Also under par, Craig Wood was in second place. Tied for third were Tony Manero, Henry Picard and Al Tapinoso, each with 142, one over par.

Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen were far back with 146's, one stroke behind the worst of the first ten leaders.

The group with 145 and less also included Billy Burke, Harry Cooper, Phil Mehlhorn, Tommy Armour and Johnny Golden.

CATSKILL MILK FUND DOCTS THIS FRIDAY

The card of Milk Fund bouts scheduled for Friday night, March 31, at Catskill is expected to draw many Kingston fans who are interested in the feature match between Jack Dempsey of Brooklyn and Johnny Raymond of Flatbush.

Dempsey recently scored a wide margin of victory over Adam Unverzagt, Ellenville, at the old armory and is expected to give Raymond one of the toughest scraps of his career.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Frankie Murphy, Brooklyn, N. Y., stopped Smoky Maggard, Cincinnati (9).

Immediate Adoption of Beer Legislation Urged by Lehman

straight into the mills of political control under such county boards as executive officers appointed by and responsible to the non-political entities state board. I deem it is necessary that the county boards of the state be dissolved and replaced by a body of appointed members of any liquor control board, county, city, and not an administrative agency and they should be so provided. The courts will be faced with the judicial enforcement of this bill, they should take no part in its administration. The responsibility for the proper control of liquor, both in the various counties and in New York city, should be clearly centered in one state-wide agency. It is apparent that such an agency would not be subjected to the same political local interests that would bring their influence to bear upon independent local boards.

Provides Local Option.
"While avoiding, on the one hand, the risks of decentralized control, the bill nevertheless is sufficiently flexible to meet the particular needs and desires of each county in the state and of New York city. In fact, the bill provides for local option for any city and town in the state."

"We cannot blink the fact that prohibition was made possible 12 years ago only because of the vicious excesses which had by that time developed in the liquor traffic. One of the outstanding evils which gave the proponents of prohibition their opportunity to foist the Eighteenth Amendment upon the American people was the close tie-up between politics and the liquor traffic. We cannot in this state permit that interest of the state, and indeed it would be against the interest of the political parties themselves, I realize that in some political quarters opposition to this theory has developed. Demand is being made that the non-political safeguards be deleted from the bill. No thinking person is deceived by the pretenses of those who preach against the method of appointment which I have advocated. No one is deluded into thinking that those who object so strenuously to this non-political board are interested in providing an effective method of control. The plain truth is, and the people of the state know it, that in back of this opposition is the determination of the selfish and mercenary interests in the state to regain at all costs the control of the liquor traffic."

"Your honorable bodies should bear in mind that we are not here concerned solely with the question of beer. Much of what we do now will remain when liquor again becomes legal. What we set up now cannot be quickly undone. The standards which we now adopt will remain with us."

"The temper of enlightened public opinion, I believe, has changed. Real advocates of temperance, who are opposed to the horrible evils of prohibition, realize: First, that it would be unthinkable to return to the old saloon conditions of the days before the Eighteenth Amendment; and, secondly, that a return to such conditions in this state would inevitably retard or possibly even defeat the repeal of national prohibition."

The measure which I recommend does not in any sense restrict the easy flow of beer from its manufacture to its consumption. The bill permits grocery stores and drug stores, restaurants, hotels, clubs and beer gardens to sell beer to be taken home. Anybody can go into one of these places for either a can or a bottle of beer to take out for consumption. Restaurants, hotels, clubs, trains and vessels may sell it freely to be consumed right on the premises, with or without food as the desire of the customer may be. The bill even provides that the state board may permit the sale of beer at bars under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe. Brewers will be permitted to deliver beer direct to the home, as will wholesale distributors. The fact is that it will be easier on the whole to obtain beer under this bill than it was before prohibition.

"In an endeavor to avoid some of the former evils attendant upon the beer traffic, the bill provides that no brewer shall in any way be interested in any retail establishment. The days when the brewer financed, and really owned, chains of numerous saloons and engaged in feverish competition of sales exploitation with each other must not be allowed to return."

"Whenever the major political parties in recent years have announced their opposition to the Eighteenth Amendment, they have at the same time loudly proclaimed that they were opposed to the evils of the old saloon days. This bill, would, in so far as possible, prevent the return of those evils. If the pledges and promises were honest, this bill should be passed. If they were intended only as a sham and a fraud upon the voters of the state, it should not be passed."

"Great pressure is being exerted by the swarm of lobbyists of the beer and liquor traffic who have descended upon the Capitol. Unfortunately they have apparently not realized that their excessive opposition is the cause of prohibition. They do not want regulation or reasonable control. What they really want is a bill which does not provide any control at all."

"No one abhors the evils of constitutional prohibition more than I; no one is more anxious than I to see the Eighteenth Amendment repealed. It is for that very reason that I urge upon your honorable bodies the necessity of now adopting a decent, honest, control system. Failure to do this may lead to refusal to ratify the repeal amendment. I do not exaggerate when I say that the eyes of the nation are fixed upon this state. If we do our duty to other states of the union will feel little apprehension about repealing the Eighteenth Amendment. Otherwise, there is grave danger that the example of New York may prevent our achieving our ultimate goal—the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. This is the first opportunity that we in New York have had to show that we were sincere when we would regulate its own liquor traffic in a proper way. The responsibility is yours. April seventh is only a few days off."

The Young People's League of the Jewish Community Center on lower Broadway will hold an "Old Clothes Party and Dance" on Thursday evening, March 30, after 8:30 o'clock. Members and all others who desire to join this organization are cordially invited to attend.

The committee in charge of the dance reports that the preparations are almost completed. It is expected that all will come in appropriate costume. This together with hay, straw and other appropriate decorations will help create the country-like picture. Old-time dances will occupy a part of the evening's program, which will also include other entertaining features. A pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

PORT JERVIS SILK WEAVERS TIE UP MILL BY STRIKE

Weavers in the Kattermann & Mitchell silk mill at Port Jervis struck Monday night for what they described as a living wage says the Middletown Times-Herald. As a result the entire plant of the Church street in Port Jervis was closed Tuesday with more than 200 employees—half of them strikers—locked out. The weavers are striking for $15 a week and a decrease in working time from 9½ hours to 9 hours a day. The company owns plants in Kingston, Paterson, Walworth, Binghamton and in North Carolina. In boom times the weavers on the night shift averaged from $30 to $35 a week, with day workers receiving $5 less.

Gets Informal Debate.
Washington, March 29. (AP)—Consideration of the administration's $300,000,000 unemployment relief bill was blocked in the senate today by Senator McNary, Republican leader, but the measure was taken up for informal debate.

COMING ACTIVITIES AT REDEEMER CHURCH

The choir of 34 voices of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will again sing Stainer's "Credo" Good Friday evening at 7:45. The choir is composed of young people, many of whom are studying voice. The large attendance when the choir in past years have sung this famous cantata testify to the excellence of their rendition of this sacred music under the skillful direction of Leonard Mine, choir director, and sympathetic accompaniment of Prof. Fred Richens the organist. The church, except the chancel, will be illuminated by candles. As a fitting climax to the service the congregation will join in the Passion Litany.

On Palm Sunday evening the choir will sing Maunders' "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," a short but beautiful Lenten cantata.

At the Thursday Lenten service this week beginning at 7:45 the pastor, the Rev. O. E. Brandoff, will speak on the words, "Behold the Man," continuing the series of sermons on "Places of the Passion."

The Senior Luther League will hold its regular monthly Fellowship Hour Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The speaker will be Principal Clarence Dumm of Kingston High School.

The monthly meeting of the Brotherhood will be held Tuesday evening, Adjutant W. N. Wood of the Salvation Army will give an illustrated lecture on "The Salvation Army."

SPECIAL LENTEN MUSIC AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be special Lenten music rendered by Herman LaTour, tenor soloist, at Holy Cross Church and Walter J. Kidd, organist and choir-master.

Mr. LaTour will sing selections from the Lenten Cantata "The Servant of the Lord," by DuBois, and will sing several other Lenten solos suitable for Passion Sunday. Mr. Kidd will render the Alleluia Con Fuoco from the Third Symphony by Gullmunt.

No More Street Lights.
A communication from Pirie & Thiel who conduct the Cornell Street Garage on Cornell street asking that a large arc light be placed in that street was filed. The lighting committee reported that there was no money in the budget for additional street lighting this year, and the secretary was instructed to write Pirie & Thiel to that effect.

To Meet April 11.
The board decided to hold a special meeting on Tuesday evening, April 11, and invite Francis W. Heimerle and his attorney Frank W. Brooks, to meet with the board to discuss the Manor avenue sewer assessment which Mr. Heimerle contends is excessive.

The board also decided to invite a representative of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation to meet with the board at that time to discuss the cost of street lighting.

To Take Over Quarry.
Commissioner Flanagan stated that the emergency work relief would be through with this week at which time the quarry will be taken over by the board, and closed down until necessary repairs are made to the machinery.

What Taxpayers Wanted
Commissioner Flanagan said that Elmer Swart of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association had been to see him and as he would not be able to attend the meeting that night had asked Commissioner Flanagan to take up the proposition of collecting papers and ashes separately in the city.

A discussion followed and the board expressed the opinion that it would cost the city an additional sum of $15,000 a year to make separate collections as proposed by the taxpayers and the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Swart to that effect.

The board transacted several routine matters and audited bills before adjourning.

TABASCO.
